Know Anyone Interested in the Catholic Faith?

Our experience in recent years has shown us that many people become interested in joining the Catholic faith because of an invitation issued by a friend, a neighbor, or a co-worker. You may just be that person who can reach out to someone that may be searching in their lives. Think and pray about this and see if there might be someone waiting for your invitation.

In recent years, we have participated in classes with neighboring parishes. While this clearly offered the advantage of a variety of speakers and a larger group, the disadvantage was a lack of contact with each individual parish. This year we will focus on a process of discerning and welcoming within St. Terrence parish.

If you know of anyone interested in finding out more about the Catholic faith, please invite them to contact Fr. Barrett at the rectory (597-0970). I will meet with each interested person and we will determine how best to proceed for that individual. Spread the word and invite your neighbors and friends.

Cataract Basics

Just what is a cataract? Behind the iris and pupil of the eye lies the lens, clear in color and made of protein and water. As we age, it becomes inflexible, less transparent, and thicker. Some of its protein clumps together, too, and that starts to cloud a small area of the lens. The clouding is called a cataract.

A healthy lens focuses light that passes into your eye, producing sharp images at the back of the eye (the retina). A cataract scatters the light as it passes through the lens, reducing the sharpness of the image. In time a cataract may grow so large and dense that its difficult to read, drive at night, or see the expression on a grandchild's face.

The risk of a cataract increases as you get older. About half the population has a cataract by age 65, and nearly everyone over 75 has at least one. Although some cataracts are caused by inherited genetic disorders, most develop when aging changes the tissue that makes up the eye's lens.

But there are causes besides age. Exposure to ultraviolet light and other types of radiation may injure the eye and result in cataracts. Studies suggest those with diabetes are at greater risk. Other possibilities are major tranquilizers, steroids, and diuretics; cigarette smoke; air pollution; exposure to lead; heavy alcohol consumption; hormone replacement therapy.

For while, self-care methods like using a magnifying glass, limiting night driving, keeping eye prescriptions current, and improving the lighting in your home may help. But when vision loss begins to interfere with the quality of your life day in and day out, consider cataract surgery. It's simple and relatively painless.

August is Cataract Awareness Month.

Prayer: I see clearly, God, that caring for myself is critical. Help me keep this front-of-mind today as I make decisions big and small. Amen.
